MEGA MOOT PROBLEM

Hindostan is a Union of States and union territories having quasi-federal structure of governance with a written constitution. Her economy is considered the fourth-fastest-growing with projected growth. As per the Central Bank of Hindostan, Hindostan's banking sector is sufficiently capitalised and well-regulated. The digital payments system in Hindostan has evolved the most among 25 countries with Hindostan's Immediate Payment Service (HMPS) being the only system at level 5 in the Faster Payments Innovation Index (FPPII). Due to the recent changes in the economic policies Hindostan became a hub for investors from across the globe.

Rijay Nallaya is a famous industrialist and liquor baron who hails from Varnataka, a southern state of Hindostan. He also tried his hand in aviation industry by starting an airline company which proved to be a big failure due to bad policies and mismanagement as a result of which he suffered a heavy loss. Though Rijay Nallaya is a very wealthy person and runs several companies whose worth is several billions his business saw a sudden downfall in the recent years and the stock market analysts opined that the downfall is mainly due to bad decisions at the management level and that it is very difficult, if at all possible, to be repaired and the possibilities of coming back to profitable days are very obscure. Rijay Nallaya had also secured loans amounting to several thousand crores from several nationalised banks and particularly he had secured a loan for 500 crores from Imperial Bank of Hindostan, the largest nationalised bank in Hindostan. Owing to the poor performance of his businesses Rijay Nallaya was in the habit of repaying the loan very irregularly and at a point of time he failed to repay any amount towards the loan. The amount payable including the legitimate interest only in respect of the loan availed from the Imperial Bank alone amounted to 479 crores. It was later found that there had been major non-compliances with the loan policy and that the collateral security and guarantee furnished for the loan were all sham.

It came to light that the officers at the top level management of the bank had granted loan to Nallaya by overlooking his ineligibility. The Bank constituted a special committee to enquire into the misconduct of its officers in granting loan to Nallaya and departmental action was taken against the erring officers. A case was also registered by the Central Bureau of Investigation, apex investigation agency of Hindostan, for the fraud committed by the Bank Officials and Rijay Nallaya. The Bank though declared Rijay Nallaya's account as a Non-Performing Asset did not take any fruitful action in collecting the loan amount. There was a speculation in the print and electronic media that Rijay Nallaya is all set to leave the country and settle in England to evade the payment of loan which amounts to more than thousand crore rupees. Despite this speculation no efforts had been taken to collect the loan from Nallaya nor to attach his properties. While the things being thus, Rijay Nallaya chartered a private flight and went to England where he was granted asylum on his request. When this news was published in the media there was a commotion among the public and there were few protests by the opposition parties across the country demanding resignation of the ruling party. The Government, on seeing the public reaction, enacted The Fugitive Economic Offenders Act 2018, and the said Act came into force on 31st July 2018. An NGO TII (Transparency International India) filed a PIL before the Supreme Court of Hindostan challenging the constitutionality of The Fugitive Economic Offenders Act 2018, and the matter is posted for hearing the issues pertaining to both maintainability and merits on 2nd December 2018.

The law of Hindostan are in Pari materia to that of India.
